

God's Animal Kingdom Classroom

Mouse

The common mouse is a mixed blessing. It is so adaptable that it can be found almost anywhere. The bad part of this is that the mouse can be very destructive with its eating and home building habits. While the mouse is not an evil animal, it is often thought of as a pest because of the damage it does.

What can we learn from the mouse?

The good things we can learn from the mouse are how to be adaptable so as to spread the gospel all over the world. The mouse can eat many different types of foods and live in many types of homes. We should try to be like the mouse so that we can tell people wherever we live about our Savior Jesus. Whether we live in the city or the country, in a wealthy area or a poor area, a new house or an old house, we should always adapt ourselves so we will be able to tell those who have not heard about Jesus or those who do not believe in Jesus what He has done for all of us. The apostle Paul says in 1st Corinthians 9:22, “I have become all things to all men so that by all possible means I might save some. I do all this for the sake of the gospel that I may share in its blessings.”

We can also learn what to avoid from the mouse. We should try not to harm people in the things we do. We should be careful in what we say so that we do not turn people away from Jesus. We should also be sensitive to the problems of others so that we do not cause them pain but rather give them comfort in how we tell them about Jesus.
